The Soulsby Foundation

Travel Fellowships 2019 Application form

The application must be in type and must be complete, otherwise it will not be considered by the review committee. You may apply for a 2019 Soulsby Fellowship between 1 November 2018 and midnight (GMT) on 31January 2019.

Applicants should note that, for the purposes of applying for a Soulsby Foundation Fellowship, the board has adopted the following definition of One Health:

"One Health focuses on the interdependence between the health of livestock, humans, wildlife and the environment and the importance of this inter-relationship in framing research questions, policy and practice. While there is no universally accepted definition of One Health, interdisciplinary collaboration and systems-level approaches lie at its core. For the purposes of this funding opportunity, successful applications are likely to be those which propose research projects which integrate knowledge from animal and human health and have the potential to improve our understanding of disease in man and animals. This includes consideration of the socio-economic aspects and environmental impacts of those diseases which are relevant to animal and human health."

All applications will be assessed against this definition.
